Blogs

So far we are having a great year! This year we have decided to allow each class participate in a blog and it has been fun. If you have not yet taken a look at your child's class blog please do, so many fun things that your child is learning are being shared with you so that you can experience their wonderful learning adventure. If you haven't seen a form for the blog you can download that from our website. Please note some blogs are still being set up, and we appreciate your patience.
